Short in Accounts.

A good deal of interest was aroused this week when it was reported that Mr. Jay J. Hardin, manager of the Chester Oil Mill had left town and was found to be short in his accounts.

There have been many rumors, as are common in such cases, but we have been unable to obtain any definite and reliable information about the true state of affairs, as the officials of the company who are checking up the books, the only persons who have any definite facts, will not give out anything.

Humors give the shortage so far discovered at figures all the way from $2,500 to $4,000 or more, but this may be all guess work.

Mr. Hardin is understood to have left on a north-bound train Monday evening, and is said to have been heard from in Washington.

Drowned in Mill Pond.

Last Sunday about one o'clock two married women and one man were drowned in the Aqueduct pond near Greens. A party of ten went out in a small boat. Some one wished to change from one part of the boat to the other. While he was doing this the boat tilted and several persons were thrown out. Mrs. W. C. Clark, Mrs. G. W. Keller and W. J. Rose were drowned. Many people witnessed the terrible scene from the banks of the pond, but they could give no help. Mrs. Keller had two children with her. She held one in her arms while the other was lying in the bottom of the boat. She clung to the child. When she rose the second time she threw it in the boat and then she sank to rise no more. All parties belonged to the mill town—Carolina Spartan.

Mrs. Clark was from this county. Her remains were brought home and buried at New Bethel yesterday, the funeral service being conducted by the Rev. J. H. Farry.

Baseball Assured For Chester.

The Rubicon has been crossed so far as having professional baseball played in Chester this summer is concerned. At a meeting of the "fans" at the Chester Hotel Monday evening it was ascertained that enough money had been subscribed to place a team in the field for the season.

When the going sounds for the season, the following directors were elected to pilot the destinies of the local club: A. N. Sample, A. L. Gaston, S. E. McFadden, Paul Hardin, J. C. Robinson, A. M. Allen and W. Boney.

Messrs. A. N. Sample, Paul Hardin, and H. M. DeVega were appointed a committee to secure a charter. Application was made in due form to the secretary of the state league and the charter should be granted in a few days.

The charter is asked for in the name of the "Chester Baseball Association," to be capitalized at $2,000, capital stock to consist of 1,000 shares of the par value of two dollars each.

ASSOCIATION EXECUTIVE OFFICERS.—The directors of the Chester Baseball Association have elected officers. They are as follows: Paul Hardin, president; A. N. Sample, vice president; H. M. DeVega, treasurer; C. J. Patterson, secretary. Messrs. Hardin, Sample, DeVega and Patterson constitute the executive committee.

Burglar in Rock Hill.

This morning about 1 o'clock while Julia Johnson was in the Rock Hill Drug Co.'s store posting the books he heard a noise in the back room. At first he thought it was a cat and paid very little attention to the same. Later he heard a box fall and stepped out of the office and around the counter and the party had to see what was making the noise, and just as he got around the counter he saw a man with a Derby hat on standing behind some boxes near the entrance to Dr. Massey's office. He immediately ran to the front door and called Officer Miller, but when they got back they found the party had escaped through the back door. It is not known how he got in, but the door to the annex which was formerly used as a bottling plant, was found open. It is supposed that the party was waiting for Mr. Johnson to stop work and start to close the store and then to cover him and take what money he could. Mr. Johnson says he could not tell whether the party was white or black, as it was not very light when he was standing and that he did not have any time in making investigations—Rock Hill Record.

If this keeps up the spring bonnets there, or will the shrubbery have to be removed before the identity of the wearer can be disclosed? They took us unawares with the winter styles and we want to be prepared this time—peep under the edges to see who is Kluttz.

KLUTTZ Department Store

We leave for the Northern Markets Monday night. While away everything will be reduced to an infinitely small price to make space for the largest display of Spring and Summer Goods we have ever handled. We are now closing our books on the best Fall and Winter business in all our history. Never in all the nearly 17 years we have been here has there been so large a quantity of goods wrapped up. And with our stock low and a great reserve fund of money, we hasten to New York City to buy all kinds of merchandise for spot cash. We do not ask for credit, for the merchant that buys on credit always has to pay more for his goods than the one who planks down the cash. We will pay spot cash for everything, and mark my word, we will be able to supply your Spring and Summer Merchandise lower than any other store in the city. And we invite you to the immense bargain feast that awaits you during our visit north. Never again will you have such a great opportunity to purchase goods so low priced. And we bid you a hearty welcome.
